A photo collage showing members at a table painting pumpkins. The photos are arranged in a grid with captions: Max is enjoying himself, hard at work, new friends, beautiful sunset, active listening, and different interpretations. A central purple ribbon reads WARREN COUNTY 4-H AWARD SOUTHERN KENTUCKY FAIR BOWLING GREEN KENTUCKY. A white card in the top right corner reads: Cricket Bergner, 4-H Scrapbook, 929. A small text box on the right side of the collage reads: "The Creation Station club practiced painting again in their October meeting. This time with a different medium! The project was a still life portrait of a fall pumpkin and sunflowers. This subject matter was chosen to celebrate Fall's arrival over Kentucky. Members got to learn different types of brushstrokes, types of brushes, canvas and how to layer color as well as the importance of washing your brush. The paintings showed each individuals talent and personality."
