Cooperative Extension Service

The Warren County Extension District Board has determined there is a great need for a new Extension Office.

One with more meeting room space to accommodate more 4-H Clubs, Homemakers, Cattlemen's, Master Gardeners and many more groups. The new extension office located at 5162 Russellville Road will be more than twice as big as the current office. The 16,728 feet space will have the ability to hold 5-6 different meetings including one room that will have a capacity of 300 people. As you know, Extension can touch every citizen in Warren County with programming that reaches families, youth, gardeners, farmers, and homeowners. We are offering an opportunity for individuals/families/businesses to support the new Extension Office by purchasing a brick(s) to show your support for this very important project.
